Re: Fall of the Global Financial System

March 11, 2008
October 10, 2008

On March 11, 2008, I had a dream of the Titanic sinking. It was in color, and I saw its bow rising up in the air and its classic smoke stacks jutting up from its deck as it began to sink into the sea. Following this picture, I saw the year 1917 scroll before me and then the month of May.

The Titanic was called by some as a nearly-invincible ship (not quite unsinkable but formidable) and was built to be part of a fleet of the largest and most luxurious ships on the sea. However, on April 14, 1912, at 11:40 pm, it struck what is called a blackberg, an iceberg that looks black in the night just like black ice, and sank shortly after on April 15.

As I did research on the ship, I discovered something very interesting that I believe is the clue to why I was given this dream. The owner of the ship was JP Morgan, the American railroad tycoon who was one of the wealthiest men of his time. In fact, he is attributed with having saved or rescued the national economy, in general, and the federal government, in particular, on two separate occasions. Further, he built one of the most powerful banking houses in the world. JP Morgan's company played a major role in enslaving America to the Federal Reserve System, and it became financially connected with the Federal Reserve banks. Today, JP Morgan's name is still in financial news (i.e., JP Morgan Chase, Morgan Stanley).

This is how I see it: The Titanic, a nearly-invincible, luxury ship, sinking into the sea refers to the financial/economic system, a nearly-invincible system of great wealth (luxury), sinking among the nations. In Scripture, the sea often represents the nations. What connects the Titanic to the financial system and luxury or wealth of the nations is its owner, the wealthy financier JP Morgan, whose company was instrumental in yoking the US economy to the Federal Reserve System, starting in 1914. The Titanic sank, and in two years, the US was yoked to a system that will eventually bring it to its knees. Watch the next several years!

The fact that this dream was given in 2008 on the 11th of March, and 6 months later the world began to witness the crumbling of this system 7 years from September 11, 2001 is no coincidence. The number 6 is the number of man and represents his wisdom and labor, which will come up short of the mark or glory of God. This you can take, so to speak, to the bank as well.

On a personal note, my middle name is Harland, and my mother's maiden name was Wilson of Scot-Irish descent. In fact, both her parents were Wilsons. The Titanic was built by an Irish shipbuilder named Harland and Wolf. President Woodrow Wilson was the one who signed the Federal Reserve Act to yoke the USA to the financial beast of Mystery Babylon. A check of Wilson's background revealed that his family was from the same general area as my mother's, and he had the same Scot-Irish Presbyterian background as my mother's family. On September 18, 2008, as a Wilson, I was called to come out of the part of the financial beast system called the Stock Market. I was also invested in Lehman Brothers; its demise was the tipping point of the financial crisis. I did not realize it at the time, but this was the very day and hour that the global system nearly collapsed but was saved when the Federal Reserve began pumping large sums of money into the system. I could not have orchestrated such connections.

I believe that, in some measure, I was led to prophetically participate or play out what happened to the financial system, as a sign. On September 23, 2008, I was led by the Holy Spirit to repent as a Wilson for the action of President Wilson. On that day, I was also led to act out the cutting of the cord of falsehood, signifying the cutting loose of us Americans from our corrupt political system. See P#16. This is all good news, for the Reign of the Heavens is beginning to descend upon the nations.

Interestingly, I received another word that seems connected to the dream of the Titanic. At 4:40 am on October 10, 2008, I heard the words “the battle is over” followed by “Waterloo.” Waterloo stands for the decisive defeat of Napoleon Bonaparte on June 18, 1815. Defeat came when Napoleon’s elite guard lost their will to fight and retreated from the enemy. The sight of their disorder and retreat sent panic throughout Bonaparte’s ranks that resulted in their disintegration.

This is interesting to study, but I believe there is something more significant in this word. With some research, I discovered that with the fall of Napoleon, the financier Nathan M. Rothschild quadrupled his fortune and became a major monetary powerhouse, even to this day. More significantly, the House of Rothschild was instrumental in developing the current international banking system by making government bonds easily available. Another interesting fact is that Waterloo is currently the headquarters for MasterCard International Europe (i.e., credit).

I believe that just as JP Morgan’s Titanic sank and Napoleon’s army was decisively defeated, making Rothschild very wealthy, so too the world-wide financial banking system, which, in Revelation, is metaphorically depicted as part of Mystery Babylon, will [and is] decisively fall [falling].

What about the year 1917 and the month of May?

Well, 1917 is quite an interesting year, for it was the year of the Fatima (Portugal) visions (May 13 through October 13), the so-called apparitions of the Virgin Mary that are now idolized by so many in the world; the Russian and Bolshevik Revolution, which led to the Soviet Union; the Balfour Declaration (November 2) that was Great Britain’s promise for a Jewish state in Palestine; and Sir Edmund Allenby of Great Britain taking control of Jerusalem (December 9).

The last two events were significant in the rise of the present-day state of Israel. Of note is the fact that the Balfour Declaration was issued to Lord Walter Rothschild (a leader of British Jews) and that the modern-day state of Israel declared their independence on May 14, 1948.

At this point, I have no specific understanding of which, if any, of these particular events are significant to our present day. However, I do see several possibilities, most notably with the Fatima visions in relation to the Roman Catholic Church, and the state of Israel.

We will have to watch world events to see which of these is manifested in some significant way in the near future. I would watch Fatima and Israel, and I suspect that somehow these will be linked to the global economic collapse.

Postscript: On March 11, 2011, Japan experienced the sixth largest earthquake in recorded history that led to a devastating tsunami and nuclear reactor meltdowns. As I noted in the prophetic report P#27 [Dream – FedEx Plane Crash in Tokyo], the plane crash and the meltdown are prophetic of the global financial system meltdown that is still ongoing. What just caught my attention is that the Titanic dream also occurred on March 11 three years earlier. These are not coincidences. God has judged the global financial system, and it will come down to the glory of God. Be encouraged that whatever happens is a good thing, for our King and His Kingdom are coming! The Reign of the Heavens has begun to come upon the earth.
